

MICHEALLE VANDERPOOL

As one of the most highly respected hair and makeup stylists in the world today, Michealle Vanderpool continues to be an innovative force in the fashion and entertainment industry.

Having honed her craft in creative hubs including New York, Toronto, Miami and Montreal, Vanderpool is sought-after by an ever-growing list of influential clients in music, film and television. She has spent the past two decades enhancing the images of actors, musicians and other celebrities, spanning the fashion spectrum from the last three Presidents to pop superstar Gwen Stefani.

Her impressive portfolio includes not only European catalogues, and leading international fashion magazines such as German Vogue and Cosmo but also boasts key credit roles in television including, Saturday Night Live, Conan O'Brien, Oprah, Las Vegas and key film credits such as Tobey Maguire's October Sky, Anthony Hopkins' Hearts In Atlantis, the Johnny Cash biopic Walk The Line, and the Tom Hanks blockbuster The Green Mile.

Currently based in Nashville, Tennessee, Vanderpool's talents are enlisted by several record labels and music artists, as they establish the artist's image in packaging, music videos, commercials and personal appearances.

Unquestionably, Vanderpool's world-class reputation stems from a unique ability to draw-out an individual's personal style, from classic to extreme. Her clients consistently rave about her ability to customize a look to their personality and lifestyle.

Michealle's cuts range from the basic, perimeter-cut, to the very advanced, intensive interior-cut which addresses the innermost layers of the hair, a technique typically executed by master stylists, which recognizes and treats overstressed hair.

Known as one of the world's premiere color specialists, Michealle melds her unique cutting style and passion for healthy hair with extensive training in the science of color, to offer her clients the latest in color technology, designed to nourish and maintain the health of the scalp and hair. Michealle's technical expertise and innovative approach has been recognized by industry leader L'Oréal Professionnel with its "Vision of Color" award, which she garnered in 1999 and 2001.

Michealle's philosophy is simple: Healthy hair is beautiful hair, and when cared for it will do what you ask of it. She has been dubbed "Hair Therapist," team leader, educator, and visionary. She's a firm believer in education, not only for her clients, but also for those who work with her and she is committed to investing time in each client to develop and draw out their own personal style.

Already reaching a prestigious audience with her award-winning hair and makeup artistry, Vanderpool is thrilled to be widening her influence to a new client base with the grand opening of a full salon in a modern, private setting on West End in Nashville, in May of 2007. Her new salon will also feature yoga, pilates, massage, extensions and color; each area being handled by a specialist in their craft, offering clients the utmost in personal service and cutting-edge style.
